

Every year on April 28 we pay our respects to and remember the thousands of workers who have been killed, injured or suffered illness as a result of work-related incidents.

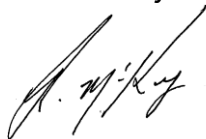

April 28 has been designated the Day of Mourning, a time when workers, families, and employers across Canada come together to remember those who were injured, disabled, or have lost their lives to work-related incidents or occupational diseases.

It is also a day to collectively renew our commitment to improve health and safety in the workplace and prevent further injuries, illnesses and deaths.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, we will not be having in person ceremonies this year. However, we strongly encourage you to practice physical distancing, consider participating in a virtual event, or simply taking a moment of reflection to honor lives forever changed.

On behalf of UA Local 488 on April 28, at 11 am, join us in a moment of silence and take a moment to honor lives forever changed.
